"Lady Nada"

I am "Lady Nada".

This has been and is a day of importance. For as each of the groups has been called to meditate, to send love and peace, to join these on each of their missions.

We know that these days seem to be so long. We know that the time seems to be long. In fact, dear ones, when you look back you will see this as the smallest sliver of time in your entire life in all the existences that you have had.

We talk about celebrations and we know that you feel the energy of these. We know that you are still waiting. We talk about the end of races. We talk about all of these things. And still, you are waiting.

We are here to share for this is the time that everything is falling into place. This is the time that you are crossing the path of winners and reaching back down to help others. We are here to share that all of these things will take place in the year 2016. Know that we are not going to be linked to specific dates. The time has already started. It has already begun. It is already here.

Have patience. What can we share of maintaining the highest consciousness? We know that you are told to be positive. We tell you to look for the good. Take time to walk in nature. Take time to get off the sidewalks and into the dirt. And to listen to wonderful music. Take time each day to meditate for your own well-being.

Are we asking for major changes in your life? No. We know that they are happening. We know that you are listening to us. We know that you are changing the things you are meant to change, each step along your way.

Sananda and I trust the direction of this group. We trust the activity of those participating with this group and those who lead this group. We are here to serve you. We are also here to nourish you, laugh with you and be the ones who lift you when you are down.

We give you our love and our blessings.

"One Who Serves"

Greetings to you. Good to be with you in this way, as always.

We have one message to give you briefly and that is in your week to come here expect something, expect something that will give you a message for the week to follow in your next time here in your "Hollow Earth Network" message. That will be very profound we might say. This is all we can give on this now.

We build up the expectation and then sometimes, there is a fall of that. As "Lady Nada" has said, it is all in the Now, it is happening Now! What can we say more on this? We tell you all the time that it is happening and you have to open your eyes, your spiritual eyes, not your physical eyes, and allow your heart to get into the picture more and more.

Because you all have this inner knowing. You all know this is what you are here for. This is what you came for. This is the show that is waiting for you. You have created this entire process, you as the collective you. So, allow for this to continue. Be patient a little while longer. And all will come forward as all of us have been saying. And deep down you know that it is going to be exactly as we have all said. So, be patient and all of these things will come to pass.

We will take questions now.

Question: This week Sacred Geometry was coming on strongly with me. I spoke to a gentleman about a spaceship that is locked in a pyramid. Can you tell me if this is true?

“OWS”

It is certainly not common knowledge but it is there nevertheless. This one you are speaking of has been deep within the pyramid for a long time. It was spoken of by the Thoth in the “Emerald Tablets”. So, it is there. It has been lifted up previously in times past. It is there to be so again.

There is so much more to this. This is just the beginning but it is ancient and has been there for a very long time. When the frequencies are right it will be announced to the world. And what the meaning is and where it is secreted away here. And what it is secreted away within. Has been used in the past but not so much now.

Further questions?

Question: I have in my dreams seen myself lifting pyramids with the help of pink rocks. What can you tell me about these?

“Ashira”

This is wonderful dream for you because it is reminding you of the strength that you are. Reminding you of the strength that you have. This is not so much a past life we will say but a message to fulfill yourself by the strengths that you have.

Raising the pyramids in the sky would be a “Star Wars” reference would it not? The discussion last week about Yoda tells in Luke Skywalker to do, not to try, to life the ship from the water. In your ream you were doing this very successfully.

We would say take this close to your heart and know that this is the power that you are.

“OWS”

One of the understandings that will come upon the planet is about the pyramids and what the pyramids represent. These energy sources have been taken over by what is called the Cabal for a very long time here. They have used these vortexes of energy and these connections along the ley lines and all of these things that come together here.

But these have been used for dark force or dark magic. It is already in the process of changing and many of the locations have already been taken over by the forces of light. In the times to come these will be taken back and they will be connected across the planet for a new energy grid. That is already taking place now.

Would there be other questions here?

Question: My son had several things happen this week. He saw a big, black smoke like thing appear out front one night. Another night he had a dream he died and saw a white light and then had another dream about being out in outer space and could see planets. What can you tell me about these things?

"Ashira"

First of all, we will say that these rays that are coming, this light that is coming in is new and is affecting everyone upon the planet. It is affecting your son as well.

We would say that the black, shadowy figure is nothing for you to be concerned about at this moment. It is something that he saw and in his brain he interpreted it in a negative way.

The dreams are wonderful! They give you the insight that he is expanding beyond his realm of understanding. He is expanding beyond where he has been. The lightness in his "death" dream is simply the light that is present in this world and is growing in the world. And traveling beyond the world that he knows to be real into the atmosphere of the universe is wonderful! All of these for us are great signifiers of the growth he is going through.

He does not have the words for these things. He does not have the understanding for these things, even though you are his mother. It is wonderful that he is sharing them with you and you can share with him the wonders of the world as it changes now. Does this make sense to you?

"OWS"

We only wish to add here that this one, as you know him, as his mother and who he was in the past, There is this connection that is continuing on at a deep level that is coming out now. He will come to realize more and more who he is and what he is here for.

But for this to happen there needs to be a change within this one and it is happening in his dream state to bring this about. Not in his waking state yet but it is coming if he is allowed to blossom. To become who he is. To have this happen there must be the releasing. We have spoken of this before. To push him out of the nest you might say. He needs to learn to fly on his own. Just be truthful with him.

Would there be other questions here?

Question: I am reading about a possible ninth planet. What can you tell me about this?

"OWS"

This is a definite for sure!

There is so much more out there than can be imagined because it has not yet been revealed. Many things are going to come during the revealing and within the Disclosure process. So all of this will be answered. All of this will come to you but you already have an inner knowing about much of this. So when this was announced by NASA you already resonated to it, for you.

And there are others who heard this and thought it was made-up or not real. It is so much more than this. It is not time to tell you about this but it will come to you. And much more than this. More questions?

Question: What are the "Halls of Amenti"?

"OWS"

There are no brief ways to explain this. It is meant for those who have eyes to see and ears to here. So, if you re-read the "Emerald Tablets" by Thoth now with the understanding you have now instead of last time as a group together, it will make a little more sense to you this time. But it is something that goes along with the ship that was spoken of earlier. It is reality and it is there and it will be part of the revealing as well. This was first given by the Cayce some time ago. Thoth spoke about it and then Cayce as well.

Another question?

Question: Will the people such as Corey Goode, Cobra and others come in together for a full Disclosure?

"OWS"

Please understand that all of this is coming together. It is all a part of the process. So all of these that you speak of will all come together as well. This is a process where many have their own understanding from their own perspective. And these perspectives are uniting into a more fuller consciousness of coming together.

If you notice though it is already beginning because some are talking about the other and it is mostly in positive ways now. They are confirming what the other one is saying. Do you notice this? This is going to happen more and more. At the point of full Disclosure it will all come out.

"Ashira"

We would like to add that this is the puzzle that you in this group talked about such a long time ago. This is another puzzle and each piece as it continues to fall into place continues to bring a more full picture. At the time of Disclosure all of the pieces will have fallen into place. All of those who will be speaking will be speaking the same language.

"OWS"

Any further questions?

Question: Have you heard of the Comet 2016?

It is also known by other names. It will come as it needs to. These things are beyond your need to know at this time. We don't like to use that terminology because it is used by your governments but that is a fact. Prime Directive, you see?

Any other questions?

We are through with our part here. Just be expectant. Keep your eyes and ears open. It is not for sure but it is a good possibility that something will happen to move you forward for next week. You will understand more at that time.

Shanti. Peace be with you. Be the ONE.

"Ashira"

I am "Ashira".

It feels like this was a short session today. It seemed like a long time was spent in your discussion today. We are always glad to be a part of that conversation with you. To listen about that you grapple with. To listen about that which you are concerned about. To listen where you are.

It is our greatest pleasure to be with you each week. To share with you in all that you do. We know that you come to hear the lessons that "One Who Serves", myself and all those who come to share with you. But you would be amazed at all of those who come to this room to share with you! All of those in this room who share with you care about you. This is indeed, an event every single week. We are pleased to be a part of it!

We give you are love and our blessings. Namaste!
