

"The Guardians Have Now Arrived, En Masse" - Guardians and One Who Serves

The "Guardians", "One Who Serves" channeled by James McConnell

(Note: these messages were given during our Wednesday Ancient Awakenings joint call with Hollow Earth Network over Blog Talk Radio in Phoenix, AZ on August 17, 2016) Note also, that the question/answer portion was not transcribed and you can listen to the audio files at either www.ancientawakenings.com or www.hollowearthnetwork.com.

The "Guardians"

Hello everyone! This is not "Sananda". We have asked if he wouldn't mind stepping aside for this particular moment.

I am a "Guardian" and I am not just one "Guardian", I am all the "Guardians" together. You could say that I am the Collective Consciousness of the "Guardians". I have come in time, in this special time, to bring you news, to bring you understanding.

I first came to James, in his sleep, two nights ago. In his dream state. I spoke to him about what is to come. He does not remember much of that but I am here now to speak to what is to come and about what has transpired in the past.

We have all been with all of you. You have been with us in many different times and places. Most of you know that you do not herald from this planet but from systems far, far away.

And now, in this moment, changes are coming fast and what you might call furious. There are so many things that are happening now behind the scenes. But it was not always this way. A long, long, long time ago far beyond what your consciousness point can understand, we were. We existed.

We traveled from system to system to bring new understanding, new consciousness wherever there would be a consciousness leap. We were there. Many times we have done exactly that. We have moved and traveled and been in so many places. Here we are now, back with you again. We were here with this planet long ago. We have returned. Just as those in Agartha have been waiting, we are here now. We are here to bring in the New Age, the "New Dispensation". To assist you and guide you.

But the "Guardians" only come a few moments before a major shift occurs. A few of us have been here a while speaking through various sources. But the majority of us have not been here. Now we are.

And times are rapidly changing. As you know, as "Sananda" has said, nothing can be stopped at this point. All has been arranged. All has been orchestrated. Everything is going exactly according to plan. Maybe not your plan but to the greater plan, the Divine Plan. Because it is a Divine Plan, because it is of the "Creator Source" it cannot be wrong. It cannot be altered. It is certainly not in error in any way. It is all that it is meant to be and then, much more.

This greater plan has been in the works for a long time. It is only now, when all of the various things are happening, all the changes are beginning to materialize in front of you, it is only now that much is about to shift.

You have heard many times about the "Event" and the smaller events leading to the larger one. That is true. You are about to have announcement. I am not here to make that announcement but you will have an announcement very soon. It will come from the leadership of this country but it will be an announcement that will reverberate across the entire planet.

Many of you might begin to guess what that announcement might be. You might be right but you maybe also not be so correct. Everything is dependent on the change that came before it. One change leads to the next and the next. This is what you have heard as the domino effect. This is certainly so.

We are here now to herald in this New Age. It is time for the trumpets to blow. Many have already done so. We are ready. We have been ready for some time. We have been watching and waiting for the opportune moment to begin to announce ourselves.

You have so much to look forward to, each and every one of you. So much more than you can yet possibly imagine yet it is certainly within your grasp. It is not being withheld from you. Please understand this. No one is holding this back. It is your Collective Consciousness that is driving all of this. Your Collective Consciousness is what has brought us to you. Now that we are here we can work more directly with that Collective Consciousness. By design the Collective consciousness of the "Guardians" will be working more directly with the Collective Consciousness of Mankind. Together we will bring all that you have been waiting for, all that you have been hoping for, all that has been seemingly beyond your reach. It is there now.

Simply reach out and know that the changes are right in front of you. All you need to do is come together as a Collective, more and more. First within yourself. Then with those who surround you and those they come in contact with and so on. Spread the Light in this way. That is already happening. The Light is spreading. The darkness is dissipating. Wherever there is Light, there can be no more darkness.

So rest easy, our Brothers and Sisters of the Light. Rest easy knowing that you are going to be going through a monumental shift in consciousness. I am not saying it is tomorrow or the day after or the next week but it is very, very soon.

I leave you with the peace and love that is in the totality of consciousness that you all are, knowing that peace is just around the corner. May you abide in peace and love, always.

"One Who Serves"

Greetings. I am here to continue the show, you might say, for certainly it is a show. We like to put on a show whenever we can because it is important for you to have laughter. It is important for to have a break from those situations that cause you great disconcertion. That creates these ill feelings you have. It is important to laugh. It is important to feel joy and to have joy. It is important to be yourself at all times because it is yourself that is bringing all of these changes.

Yourself. It is not the world or those of us outside of your realm. It is all of us. It is everyone together, all at once. All for one and one for all. That is certainly important here. We are all for you. Just as you are all for us.

We know this mighty sound somewhat different to you. I am not the normal "One Who Serves" who comes through here. I am another one. We find that we have only come through this particular channel once. As these changes continue on and you move closer to the "Event" you are going to have a marvelous experience beyond your wildest imaginations.

All of us in "One Who Serves", all of us want to be of assistance. Call on us whenever you need us. We will be there. In many cases we are already there and you did not even know it. It is time now. It is time to reach out to your Higher Selves. Reach out to all you know to request assistance in all of those areas you require assistance.

You are not in this alone, people. Please understand this. You are not in this alone. You are in this as a Collective. You are here to assist your brothers and your sisters just as they are here to assist you. All of us are here to do this together.

OK? So let's do this together. Let's have a grand time! Or as the other "One Who Serves" says, let's celebrate! Shante, Peace Be with you. Be the ONE!
